

AIB NV CONDITIONS OF CONTRACT

1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, each offer from, and each contract with, AIB NV is governed by these Conditions of Contract, which consist of a general conditions part and a conditions part specifically relating to temporary employment agency work, all of which form an integral part of the contract and take precedence by operation of law over the purchase conditions or other conditions of the Customer.
- 1.2 Deviation from or amendment to these conditions may only be argued against AIB NV if it has given its written consent. The present conditions shall therefore apply unaltered and without prejudice to any provision of services for which a derogation or modification has been requested or proposed by the Customer and which has not been expressly accepted in writing by AIB NV.

2. GENERAL CONDITIONS OF CONTRACT

2.1 Definitions

- 2.1.1 Employee: any person or legal entity called upon by AIB NV for the execution of the Contract with the Customer, irrespective of the legal relationship between them, in particular but not limited to employees, independent consultants and subcontractors.
- 2.1.2 Contract: the concrete cooperation between the parties as shown by a written agreement, an accepted offer, general and/or special conditions, etc.
- 2.1.3 Services: all services provided by AIB NV, in particular but not limited to the organisation of temporary employment agency work (search for assignments, search and recruitment of temporary employees, ...), recruitment and selection, payroll and training.
- 2.1.4 Customer: any (legal) person who makes use of the Services of AIB NV and/or purchases Services from it.

2.2 Correspondence and period

- 2.2.1 For the performance of the Contract, 'in writing' means any medium which allows the content of the communication to be materialised on a durable carrier, in particular but not limited to paper documents, fax and e-mail.
- 2.2.2 If any provision of the general conditions is null and void or is annulled, the other provisions of the general conditions shall remain in full force and effect. In such a case, AIB NV and the Customer shall, by mutual agreement, replace the void provision by a provision which corresponds as closely as possible to the purpose and purport of the void or nullified provisions.
- 2.2.3 All correspondence in which the Customer invokes one or more contractual provisions of the general conditions, or requests the execution of one or more provisions, shall only be valid to AIB NV when addressed to the registered office of the parties. If the Customer addresses such correspondence to AIB NV by regular or registered mail, he will always send a copy by e-mail (info@ago.jobs) or fax (056/22.92.88). Any such correspondence sent by regular or registered mail without such a copy shall be deemed never to have been received by AIB NV.
- 2.2.4 Without prejudice to the foregoing, correspondence by regular or registered mail shall be deemed to have been received on the third working day following its posting. Correspondence by e-mail or fax received by AIB NV before 4.00 p.m. shall be deemed to have been received for the performance of the parties' obligations at the time of receipt indicated on that letter. Correspondence by e-mail or fax received by AIB NV after 4.00 p.m., or on a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, will be deemed to have been received at 9.00 a.m. the next working day for the performance of the parties' obligations.
- 2.2.5 If, pursuant to the Contract between the Customer and AIB NV, a specific commitment must be performed on a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday, this commitment will be performed in good time on the next working day. Saturday is not considered a working day. The same shall apply to the expiry of any time limits arising from the Contract.

2.3 Quotations and price agreements

- 2.3.1 All price calculations, quotations and other offers made by AIB NV are of an indicative nature only and are not binding, unless otherwise indicated in writing by AIB NV.
- 2.3.2 The Customer is responsible for the correctness and completeness of the information necessary for the price calculation provided by him or on his behalf to AIB NV. The Customer will at all times ensure that the requirements to be met by the performance of AIB NV are correct, accurate and complete.
- 2.3.3 All quotations of AIB NV for the provision of certain Services are always drawn up based on a cost-plus contract unless it is expressly agreed in writing between the parties that one or more of those Services will be provided at a fixed price.

2.4 Price and payment

- 2.4.1 All prices are exclusive of VAT and any other taxes or levies. Unless otherwise agreed, all prices are in euros and the Customer must make all payments in euros.
- 2.4.2 If the Customer consists of several natural persons and/or legal entities, these are jointly and severally liable for payment of the amounts due. This obligation also applies to the companies listed in the appendix/appendices to the cooperation agreement between the Customer and AIB NV.
- 2.4.3 All invoices are payable at the registered office of AIB NV. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payment must be made in cash, without discount and in euros. All payment costs are to be borne by the Customer. Payment by bank transfer, bill of exchange or in any other way, cannot be accepted as a waiver of this provision and does not imply novation.
- 2.4.4 If, in accordance with the cooperation agreement or any other ground, a credit note has to be granted to the Customer, it will only be granted to the Customer insofar as all expired invoices have been paid.
- 2.4.5 All complaints or remarks concerning an invoice must be made within 5 days after the invoice date by registered and motivated letter, under penalty of forfeiture.
- 2.4.6 If the Customer does not pay the amounts due or does not pay them on time, the Customer shall, without any notice of default being required, be liable to pay default interest on the balance still due at a rate of 12% per annum. In addition, the Customer is also liable to pay a fixed indemnity clause on the total outstanding principal amount of 12% (with a minimum of € 125.00 and a maximum of € 2,500.00), even in the event of the granting of periods of grace and without prejudice to AIB NV's right to claim compensation for any additional loss suffered.
- 2.4.7 If AIB NV's confidence in the customer's credit standing is undermined by a court decision against the customer, a negative opinion of a credit rating agency and/or demonstrable events, which call into question and/or render impossible the confidence in the proper execution of the commitments entered into by the customer, AIB NV reserves the right to suspend all or part of the order and to demand appropriate guarantees and/or cash payment from the customer. If the customer refuses to accept this, AIB NV reserves the right to cancel all or part of the order. In such a case, the Customer shall be liable to pay compensation as further stipulated in these general conditions.
- 2.4.8 If payment terms or agreements have been agreed with the Customer that deviate from the Articles 2.4.3 - 2.4.5, these will irrevocably expire as soon as even one payment term has been exceeded; Without prejudice to the possibilities provided for in Articles 2.4.6 and 2.4.3 - 2.4.5, the Customer will in that case go back to the general regulation contained in Articles 2.4.3 - 2.4.5.

- 2.4.9 Partial payments are always accepted with all reservations and without adverse acknowledgement, and allocated in priority to any legal costs incurred, then to the accrued interest, then to the indemnity clause, and finally to the principal sum. Non-payment on the due date of a single invoice makes the balance due of all other invoices, even those not due, immediately due and payable by operation of law.
- 2.4.10 The possibility for the Customer to suspend his payment obligations (non-execution exception or exceptio non adimpleti contractus) is explicitly excluded, as well as the possibility for the Customer to proceed to compensation of mutually owed amounts.
- 2.4.11 If a service is contracted for an indefinite period, AIB NV may adjust the applicable prices and rates annually if one or more of the constituent elements of the cost price changes and, compared with the agreed price or rate, result in an increase in cost price of at least 5%, increases in labour costs pursuant to legal provisions or national or sectoral collective agreements, changes in currency, etc. If AIB NV wishes to apply the price revision clause referred to above, it must inform the Customer in writing within a period of at least 30 days. The application of a price revision is always at the discretion of and exclusively by AIB NV, which cannot be obliged to do so. The Customer has no right of initiative in this matter.
- 2.4.12 Without prejudice to Article 2.4.10, if the provision of the Services does not take place at the time of the conclusion of the Contract, or if the provision is subject to a periodic payment obligation, AIB NV is entitled to modify the indicated price if one or more of the constituent cost price elements change and, in comparison with the agreed price or rate, together result in an increase in cost price of at least 5%, increases in labour costs pursuant to legal provisions or national or sectoral collective labour agreements, changes in currency, etc., AIB NV is entitled to modify the indicated price. In this case, AIB NV is entitled to pass on this cost price increase to the Customer upon simple notification.
- 2.4.13 Deviation from the agreed prices is also possible in the following cases, which are listed non-exhaustively:
- (1) in cases where certain factual information provided by the Customer does not appear to correspond to reality,
 - (2) in case of material errors, arithmetical errors or errors in the price calculation of AIB NV, and (3) in case of additional works or changes to the initial order.

2.5 Confidentiality

- 2.5.1 The Parties shall ensure that all information received from the other party that is known or reasonably ought to be known to be confidential in nature shall remain secret.
- 2.5.2 The Client is prohibited from communicating to third parties the agreement(s) entered into with the temporary employment agency, including the rates, unless with the written permission of AIB NV.
- 2.5.3 In the relationship with the Employees involved in the performance of the Contract, the parties will make the necessary contractual arrangements so that these Employees would be bound by the same confidentiality obligation.
- 2.5.4 The party receiving confidential information will only use it for the purpose for which it has been provided. Information will in any case be considered confidential if it has been designated as such by one of the parties.
- 2.5.5 Upon termination of all Contracts concluded between the Parties, the Parties shall destroy all documents and files relating to Products delivered and which contain confidential data.

Delivery period

- 2.5.6 All (completion) dates communicated or agreed by AIB NV have been determined on the basis of the data known to it at the time of entering into the Contract. Interim or final (delivery) dates communicated or agreed between the parties by AIB NV are purely indicative and always apply as target dates, unless it has been expressly agreed in writing that the communicated or agreed dates have a binding and effective character. In any case, AIB NV must make sufficient effort to observe the interim or final (delivery) dates as much as possible.
- 2.5.7 AIB NV is not bound by interim or final (completion) dates which can no longer be met due to causes beyond its control and which occurred after entering into the Contract. Nor is AIB NV bound by interim or final (completion) dates in the event of delays in accordance with Articles 2.7.5 or 2.8.3 or as a result of a change in the approach to the execution of the Contract.
- 2.5.8 If there is a risk of any deadline being exceeded, AIB NV and the Customer will consult in good time in order to discuss the consequences of the delay for further planning and to limit the negative consequences as much as possible.
- 2.5.9 The mere exceeding of interim or final delivery dates communicated by AIB NV or agreed between the parties does not in itself constitute a breach of contract. In all cases - even if the parties have expressly agreed in writing that the communicated or agreed interim or final delivery dates are binding as effective delivery dates - there will only be a first instance of a breach of contract on the part of AIB NV due to an exceeding of interim or final delivery dates after the Customer has expressly given him notice of default in writing. This notice of default must be clear and concrete, and must contain a description of the shortcoming that is as complete and detailed as possible, in order to allow AIB NV to take all appropriate and necessary measures.
- 2.5.10 If the Customer refuses the agreed Services despite notice of default, or if the Customer fails to perform his obligation, AIB NV may, by registered letter to the Customer, invoke the termination of the agreement by operation of law to the detriment of the Customer. If a partial delivery or execution has already taken place when the customer refuses or makes further delivery or execution impossible, AIB NV can, subject to registered letter to the customer, opt for invoicing the executed part of the delivery or the work, and for the dissolution by operation of law of the agreement at the expense of the customer for the part not delivered or not executed.
- 2.5.11 Without prejudice to AIB NV's right to claim higher compensation for the damage it proves, on dissolution of the agreement, the Customer will be liable for compensation the minimum of which, taking into account the potential damage, will be fixed at 25% of the price exclusive of V.A.T., or where applicable, the price exclusive of V.A.T. of the part not yet delivered. AIB NV will also have the right, if necessary, to suspend in whole or in part the further execution of both the relevant and other agreements for the same Customer. The Customer will also be informed of this by registered letter.

2.6 Obligations to cooperate

- 2.6.1 The parties acknowledge that the efficient course and result of a service provision depends to a very large extent on correct and timely mutual cooperation. In order to enable AIB SA to execute the Contract efficiently and correctly, the Customer will always provide AIB NV with all useful and necessary data or information in a timely manner and will provide all the cooperation requested.

If the Customer deploys Employees in the context of cooperating in the performance of the Contract, they must have the necessary knowledge, expertise and experience.

- 2.6.2 If the Customer does not provide AIB NV with useful or necessary data, documents, equipment, software, materials or employees for the execution of the Contract, or does not do so on time or in accordance with the agreements made, or if the Customer fails to fulfil his obligations in any other way, or fails to do so on time, AIB NV is entitled to suspend the execution of the Contract in whole or in part. AIB NV also has the right to charge the costs incurred as a result in accordance with its usual rates, without prejudice to AIB NV's other possibilities to safeguard its rights.
- 2.6.3 In the event that AIB NV's Employees carries out work at the Customer's location, the Customer shall ensure free of charge that these Employees have the necessary facilities at their disposal, such as a workspace with computer, data and telecommunication facilities. The workspace and facilities will comply with all applicable labour law regulations. The Customer indemnifies AIB NV against claims from third parties, including AIB NV's Employees, who, in the framework of the execution of the Contract, would suffer damage resulting from a breach by the Customer of this Article or from an unsafe situation (an unsafe situation or unsafe situations) on the Customer's premises. The Customer shall, by way of mere information, communicate the employment regulations to AIB NV prior to commencement of the work. Should mandatory safety regulations apply at the Customer's location, the Customer will inform AIB NV in advance and explicitly and provide AIB NV with a copy of the safety regulations.
- 2.6.4 If in the execution of the Contract computer, data or telecommunication facilities are used at the Customer's premises, including the Internet, the Customer is responsible for their timely and full availability, except for those facilities under the direct use and management of AIB NV. AIB NV can never be held liable for any damage or costs resulting from failures or non-availability of these facilities, unless the Customer proves that such damage or costs are the result of intent or deliberate recklessness on the part of AIB NV's Employees. Where applicable, section 2.18 of the Conditions of Contract is applicable.
- 2.6.5 In the event of failure by the Customer to comply, or to do so on time, with the cooperation obligations set out in this section, the periods agreed between the parties will be extended for the duration of the delay caused by the Customer, without prejudice to the provisions of section 2.6.

2.7 Changes and additional work

- 2.7.1 If, at the request or with the prior consent of the Customer, AIB NV has provided Services falling outside the subject of the Contract, such work or services will be remunerated by the Customer in accordance with the agreed rates. In the absence of an agreement relating to the rates for additional work, these interventions will be provided in accordance with the usual rates of AIB NV. AIB NV is never obliged to comply with such a request and may require that the arrangements for the intended additional work between the parties be laid down in advance and in writing.
- 2.7.2 Insofar as a fixed price has been agreed for the provision of services, this fixed price relates exclusively to the initial object of the Contract. Changes and/or additional work will always be invoiced by AIB NV to the Customer on the basis of a cost-plus contract. In the absence of an agreement concerning the rates for additional works, these interventions will be provided in accordance with the usual rates of AIB NV.
- 2.7.3 The Customer accepts that the work or performance for alterations or additional work may affect the interim or final (completion) dates communicated or agreed by AIB NV as stipulated in section 2.6.1, as well as the mutual obligations of the Customer and AIB NV. If necessary, the deadlines agreed between the parties will be extended for the duration of the changes or additional work, without prejudice to the provisions of section 2.6.1.men

- 2.7.4 The fact that one or more obligations of AIB NV as a result of changes or additional work ordered by the Customer have not been fulfilled, have not been fulfilled on time or have not been fulfilled in full, may never constitute grounds for the Customer to claim compensation or to terminate the Contract in accordance with section 2.15.

2.8 Non-solicitation employees and clientele

- 2.8.1 For the duration of the collaboration with AIB NV, as well as 24 months after the end of this collaboration, the Customer is prohibited from contracting directly or indirectly with one or more AIB NV's Employee(s). If the Contract covers several contractual relationships, the longest lasting contractual relationship will be taken into account for the purposes of this Article.
- 2.8.2 The recruitment referred to in 2.9.1 is permitted if the Customer has obtained the prior, express and specific written consent of AIB NV with regard to the employment of one or more named AIB NV Employees. AIB NV may, if necessary, attach conditions to this consent.
- 2.8.3 The damages suffered by AIB NV in the event of a breach by the Customer of Articles 2.9.1 and 2.9.2 will be contractually fixed at the total gross compensation excluding employer's charges of the Employees hired during a period of 12 months prior to recruitment, without prejudice to the right of AIB NV to prove and claim the more damages suffered.
- 2.8.4 The Customer carrying out all or part of the same activities as AIB NV, or working in the same sector, shall refrain, during and within a period of 24 months following the termination or expiry of the Contract, from actively approaching or recruiting AIB NV's clientele. In the event of a breach of this obligation, the damage suffered by AIB NV will be contractually fixed at the total of the amounts invoiced (excluding VAT) over the last three years to the acquired clientele. The date of the first provision of services by the Customer to the clientele recruited is the reference date.
- 2.8.5 For the prohibitions described in this Section, that "Customer" should also be taken to mean all companies affiliated with the Customer in accordance with Section 11 of the Companies Code.

2.9 Performance by Employees

- 2.9.1 Unless agreed otherwise, the Contract between the parties, to the extent that it concerns a service, in particular but not limited to engineering and construction of technical Applications, is never of a personal nature, and AIB NV always has the right to replace the Employee(s) it calls upon for the execution of the Contract by another/other Employee(s) with the same level of knowledge and professional experience.

2.10 External Tools

- 2.10.1 As part of the execution of its contract with the Customer, AIB NV may use digital tools to support one or more processes relating to the recruitment and selection, planning and/or employment of temporary employees...

The use of this tool (both internal and external) cannot under any circumstances be considered as part of the services included in the cooperation agreement between AIB NV and the Customer.

AIB NV therefore reserves the right to modify/cancel both the use of the tool and its supplier unilaterally at any time, without prior notification to or approval of the Customer.

2.11 Customer reference

- 2.11.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, AIB NV is entitled to use the Customer as a reference for marketing and commercial purposes without having to ask the Customer for additional express consent. Acceptance of these conditions constitutes consent.

2.12 Defects and complaints procedure

- 2.12.1 Remarks about the Services provided must be reported to AIB NV, under penalty of inadmissibility, by registered letter no later than 48 hours after delivery or completion. Complaints for hidden shortcomings must be notified to AIB NV, on pain of inadmissibility, within 48 hours of their discovery, to be proved by the Customer, and at the latest 1 month after delivery or completion, and also by registered letter. In any event, complaints may no longer be accepted if the Services provided have been expressly accepted or implemented in any way whatsoever.
- 2.12.2 At AIB NV's discretion, the legitimately refused Services may either be resubmitted or credited. Re-doing and/or crediting will never give rise to any compensation of any kind.
- 2.12.3 In any case, a complaint cannot relieve the Customer of the obligation to pay the amount of the invoices on the dates specified in the contract and in accordance with the conditions stipulated. Moreover, a complaint, even if well-founded, does not authorise the Customer to refuse the execution of the agreement for Services that are not the subject of the complaint.

2.13 Intellectual Property Rights

- 2.13.1 All intellectual property rights to the systems, procedures, data files, etc. developed or supplied by AIB NV or documents made available, and all preparatory materials thereof, or other materials such as analyses, designs, calculations, illustrations, documentation, reports, belong exclusively to AIB NV. Insofar as such a right is only obtained by means of filing, registration or patent, AIB NV is exclusively authorised to do so.
- 2.13.2 The invoicing and payment thereof by the Customer shall only serve as remuneration for the material services and costs, and may under no circumstances be considered as compensation for the transfer of any intellectual property rights. The transfer of such rights can only be effected by concluding an additional written agreement specifically and explicitly providing for a transfer.
- 2.13.3 The Customer only acquires the rights of use expressly granted to him in the general conditions. A right of use granted to the Customer is limited to the agreed conditions and is non-exclusive, non-transferable to third parties. The granted rights of use apply exclusively to personal use by the Customer. The Customer is not permitted to process or commercialise the systems, procedures or information provided.
- 2.13.4 The Customer is not permitted to remove or change any indication concerning the confidential nature or concerning copyrights, software rights, database rights, brands, trade names or any other intellectual property right from communicated or transferred items.
- 2.13.5 Parties may only deviate from Article 2.14.3 to the extent to which and to the extent that the transfer of certain intellectual property rights is made in writing, expressly, well-defined and specific. If the parties agree in writing that an intellectual property right relating to a procedure, software, data file, etc. specifically developed for the Customer will be transferred to the Customer, this does not affect the right or ability of AIB NV to use and/or exploit the know-how, general principles, ideas, designs,

Interfaces, algorithms, source codes, documentation, works, programming languages, protocols, standards, etc. underlying that development, either for itself or for third parties, without any restriction, for other purposes and for other customers. Likewise, the transfer of an intellectual property right does not affect the right of AIB NV to make developments for itself or a third party similar to or derived from those designed and developed for the Customer.

- 2.13.6 Even if the Contract does not expressly provide for a power to do so, AIB NV is authorised to fit technical or other facilities to protect the systems, data files, programs, etc. developed or compiled in order to safeguard its rights or an agreed restriction of use. The Customer may never remove or bypass any such facility.

2.14 Protection of personal data

Recruitment and selection order

- 2.14.1 If AIB NV carries out recruitment and selection assignments for the Customer, personal data within the meaning of the Law of 8 December 1992 on the protection of privacy with regard to the processing of personal data and, from 25 May 2018, Regulation 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Directive 95/46/EC will be exchanged between AIB NV and the Customer.

In this context, AIB NV and the Customer are considered to be the Candidates' Processing Manager.

Should one of the parties nevertheless act as Processor, a processing agreement will be concluded as provided for in Regulation 2016/679.

- 2.14.2 The Customer declares to comply with its obligation within the meaning of the aforementioned legislation.
- 2.14.3 The Customer is aware that the protection of personal data is of particular importance to AIB NV, and that breaches of his obligations as data controller may cause major damage to AIB NV, in particular damage to its image and reputation.
- 2.14.4 Without prejudice to the possibility for AIB NV to claim higher compensation for the actual damage caused by the breach of the obligations set out in this Article, in the event of a breach of contract, the Customer will be liable to pay fixed compensation of € 12,500.00 and such a breach will always constitute a breach of contract justifying the immediate termination of the Contract.
- 2.14.5 The Customer declares that he has read and been sufficiently informed of AIB NV's Privacy Policy, which can be consulted at any time via www.ago.jobs.

Cooperation other temporary employment agency

- 2.14.6 In the event that AIB NV, in collaboration with another temporary employment agency, is responsible for the supply of temporary employees, a partnership will be formed between them whereby both temporary employment agencies will operate either separately or together. If this is done jointly, one temporary employment agency may act as a "Master", which means that this office is the main supplier of the temporary employees. The other temporary employment agency is regarded as the "Vendor", which means that this temporary employment agency either has the smallest share in the Client's applications/turnover of temporary employment agency work or is only called in by the "Master" if the "Master" fails to complete the Client's applications (in time).

If personal data are exchanged between both temporary employment agencies because the Master performs tasks on behalf of the Vendor, such as, for example, making available and maintaining the work clothing of the Vendor's temporary employees, providing for the reception of the Vendor's temporary employees, creating an access badge for the Vendor's temporary employees, ... then the Master should be considered the processor and the Vendor in this situation the controller. Consequently, a processing agreement must be drawn up for this purpose.

2.15 Transfer of rights and obligations

2.15.1 The Customer is not permitted, without the express consent of AIB NV, to transfer the rights and/or obligations arising from this agreement to a third (legal) person.

2.15.2 AIB NV may at all times transfer its payment claims to a third party. Where relevant, Section 1690 of the Belgian Civil Code is applicable.

2.16 Dissolution and termination of the agreement

2.16.1 For the purposes of this section, any Contract entered into between the parties shall always be individually terminated or dissolved. The termination or dissolution of one of the contracts concluded between the parties shall never automatically entail the termination or dissolution of (an) other contract(s) concluded between the parties.

2.16.2 Each party may, in accordance with Section 1184 of the Belgian Civil Code, legally request the dissolution of the Contract at the expense of the other party, if the latter has failed to fulfil one or more essential obligations in an attributable and substantial manner.

2.16.3 Parties expressly agree that they may only exercise their right to dissolution within a reasonable period of time after the breach of contract and after having served notice of default on the other party by registered letter or bailiff's writ. This reasonable period can never be longer than 2 months after the occurrence of the breach/breaches of contract. In the notice of default, one of the parties must describe in detail and with reasons to the other party the breach/breaches of contract that is/are acknowledged, as well as grant the other party a final period of grace, in view of the purification of the breach/breaches of contract. This grace period must be at least 2 weeks. In the absence of the aforementioned notice of default or period of grace, any claim for dissolution in court is inadmissible. Any claim for dissolution shall lapse by the mere expiry of 24 months after the breach of contract has occurred.

2.16.4 For the application of Article 2.17.2, the payment obligations, obligations to cooperate by the Customer or a third party to be engaged by the Customer, the non-solicitation clause and the provisions regarding the protection of personal data must be regarded as essential obligations.

2.16.5 Regardless of the method of dissolution of the Contract - judicial or extrajudicial - the consequences of the dissolution between the Parties can only have an effect towards the future, and the obligations already performed or due on the part of the Parties will continue to exist in full (dissolution ex nunc). Consequently, if at the time of dissolution, AIB NV has already provided services to the Customer in accordance with Article 2.17.2, these services and the related payment obligations cannot be the subject of dissolution, unless the Customer proves that AIB NV is in default with regard to an essential part of that obligation. Amounts invoiced by AIB NV prior to the dissolution in connection with services already performed and delivered, remain unimpaired and become immediately due and payable as a result of the dissolution.

2.16.6 If a Contract has been entered into for an indefinite period of time, it may be terminated in writing by either party without giving reasons, taking into account the agreed notice period. If no notice period has been agreed between the parties, a reasonable period of notice must be observed. This period amounts to a minimum of 3 months, to be increased by 1 month per started year from the second year, but must always be concretely estimated by the terminating party in the light of the circumstances, the importance of the agreement, the period already elapsed and the costs that such termination may entail for AIB NV. Parties will not be liable to pay any compensation as a result of termination, unless one of the parties is guilty of breach of contract during the notice period in accordance with Article 2.17.2. However, payment will be due for all costs actually incurred and services rendered until the end of the Contract.

2.16.7 If the Contract has been entered into for a period determined to be renewable annually, Article 2.17.6 also applies, on the understanding that the Contract can only be terminated on each occasion by the date on which the period renewed annually expires. The same notice period as in Article 2.17.6 applies.

2.16.8 Should the Client fail to comply with the aforementioned modalities of termination and notice(s), she will be liable to pay compensation equal to the usual compensation of AIB NV corresponding to the duration of the (non-respected) notice period or the remaining part thereof. The usual fee is calculated on the basis of the monthly average of the 12 months prior to termination, or all previous months if the cooperation has lasted less than 12 months.

2.16.9 Either party may terminate the Contract without notice of default and with immediate effect in writing if the other party is declared bankrupt, is dissolved and put into liquidation, or has become manifestly insolvent. As a result of such termination, AIB NV can never be obliged to return or pay any monies already received or to pay damages. In case of bankruptcy, dissolution and liquidation, or manifest insolvency of the Customer, the right to use software, websites, etc. supplied to the Customer expires without prior notice of default and with immediate effect.

2.16.10 The dissolution or termination of a (framework) Contract automatically entails the termination of all attachments and any related contracts that are without value without the framework contract.

2.17 Force Majeure

2.17.1 Neither party is obliged to fulfil any obligation, including all guarantee obligations agreed between the parties, if that party is prevented from doing so as a result of force majeure, in particular but not limited to:

- a. Natural disasters;
- b. Epidemics;
- c. Force majeure on account of supplier of AIB NV;
- d. Failure by suppliers to comply properly with obligations called upon by AIB NV at the express request of the Customer;
- e. Defectiveness in goods, equipment, software or materials of third parties which AIB NV calls upon at the express request of the Customer;
- f. Government measures;
- g. Power failure;
- h. Internet, computer network or telecommunication facilities failure;
- i. War and serious political unrest;
- j. Staffing establishment and strikes;
- k. General transport problems;
- l. Unavailability of one or more specific staff members.

2.17.2 If a situation of force majeure lasts longer than 90 days, either party has the right to terminate the Contract in writing. Services already provided to the Customer by AIB NV will be invoiced proportionately to the Customer. Otherwise, the parties will no longer owe each other anything.

2.18 Indemnification

- 2.18.1 Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, the carrying out of an investigation into the existence of any intellectual property rights of third parties is not part of AIB NV's mission. Consequently, AIB NV can never be held liable for damage that could result from possible infringements of such protected rights. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, such research must be carried out by the customer himself, who is exclusively liable for it.
- 2.18.2 Customer also guarantees that the data and data files, documentation or other materials transmitted to AIB NV for the purpose of use, processing, installation or incorporation in and/or delivery of systems or programs, are not subject to any rights of third parties, at least that the Customer has obtained the prior written consent of such third party, if any. The Customer shall indemnify AIB NV against any claim by a third party based on the aforementioned data files, documentation or other materials.
- 2.18.3 The Customer will indemnify AIB NV against all claims of third parties due to infringement of the rights of these third parties, in particular but not limited to infringements by the Customer of the intellectual property rights of these third parties, unless the Customer is able to prove that the infringement was committed by or is the result of an intervention of AIB NV.

2.19 Liability

- 2.19.1 The total liability of AIB NV on account of an attributable, contractual or extra-contractual breach is limited to the compensation of the direct loss up to a maximum amount of the price actually invoiced for that contract (excl. of VAT). If the Contract is a continuing performance contract with a term of more than one year, the price stipulated for the Contract will be set at the total of the fees (excl. of VAT) stipulated for one year. Under no circumstances will the total liability of AIB NV for direct loss, for whatever reason, exceed € 25,000.00.
- 2.19.2 The liability of AIB NV for damage due to death, physical injury or because of material damage to property shall never exceed € 75,000.00 in total.
- 2.19.3 The liability of AIB NV for indirect damage, in particular but not limited to consequential damage, loss of profit, financial or commercial losses, missed savings, increase in general costs, increased personnel costs, reduced goodwill, damage due to business stagnation, damage resulting from claims by buyers of the Customer, Damage relating to the use of goods, materials or software of third parties suggested by AIB NV to the Customer and damage relating to the use by the Customer of suppliers suggested by AIB NV, damage due to disruption of planning and loss of clientele is expressly excluded. The liability of AIB NV for damage, destruction or loss of data or documents is also expressly excluded.

2.19.4 The exclusions and limitations of liability of AIB NV as contained in Articles 2.20.1 to 2.20.3 leave all other exclusions and limitations of liability based on the general conditions unimpaired.

2.19.5 The exclusions and limitations of liability referred to in Article 2.20.1 up to and including 2.20.3 do not apply if and insofar as the damage is the result of an intentional act on the part of AIB NV.

2.19.6 Unless compliance by AIB NV is permanently impossible, the Customer can only invoke the liability of AIB NV after having given AIB NV notice of default by registered letter or bailiff's writ within a reasonable period after the occurrence of the damage. This reasonable period can never be longer than 2 months after the occurrence of the damage. In this notice of default, the Customer must describe in a reasoned and detailed manner to AIB NV the damage claimed and its cause, and grant AIB NV a final period of grace to repair, if possible, the damage in kind of at least 2 weeks. In the absence of the aforementioned notice of default or period of grace, the Customer loses his right to possible compensation. Any claim for damages against AIB NV expires by the mere expiry of 24 months after the occurrence of the damage.

2.20 Applicable law, jurisdiction and authority

2.20.1 The contract(s) between AIB NV and the Customer are governed exclusively by Belgian law.

2.20.2 Article 2.21.1 also applies in the case of an application for the grant of a provisional or protective measure, whether or not in interlocutory proceedings, even if the provisions of the law on international jurisdiction could derogate from Article 2.21.3.

2.20.3 The Belgian courts and tribunals have exclusive jurisdiction to hear any dispute between the Customer and AIB NV regarding the creation, interpretation, performance and termination of the Contract between the parties. The courts of the judicial district of West Flanders, section Kortrijk, have exclusive jurisdiction, without prejudice to Article 2.19.4. This provision of jurisdiction also applies in the event of a request for the granting of a provisional or protective measure, whether or not in summary proceedings.

2.20.4 In deviation of Article 2.21.3, claims whose exclusive object is the collection of invoice amounts already due and payable can, at the discretion of AIB NV, be brought before the courts of the judicial district of West Flanders, department Kortrijk or the courts that are competent to take cognizance of the dispute in accordance with Section 624 of the JC. For all other claims between the parties involved, Article 2.21.3 remains applicable.

2.20.5 Any mediation or legal proceedings conducted between the parties must always be conducted in Dutch. If conducting proceedings in Dutch would not be permitted by law, the proceedings will take place in the following languages (in order of preference): English, French or the language determined by law.

3. CONTEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT AGENCY WORK SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF CONTRACT

3.1 General

- 3.1.1 These special conditions of contract for temporary employment agency work have been drawn up in accordance with the legislation in force, i.e. the Act of 24 July 1987 on temporary employment, temporary employment agency work and the hiring-out of employees for clients, including the applicable CLA's (CAOs) of the National Labour Council (NLC) and of the Joint Committee (PC) 322 temporary employment agency work, as well as the Act of 14 July 1991 on trade practices.
- 3.1.2 The temporary employees are proposed and/or made available under the conditions agreed upon at the time of application as well as the conditions set out below, which form an integral part of the Contract concluded between AIB NV and the Customer or Client. In the event of contradictions, however, the conditions agreed upon at the time of the application take precedence.
- 3.1.3 Pursuant to the Act of 24 July 1987 on temporary employment, temporary employment agency work and the hiring out of employees for the benefit of users, a written agreement is concluded between the client and AIB NV within seven working days of the commencement of the temporary employee's employment. This contains the information required by law. In addition to the commercial framework agreement, use is made of variable weekly supplements, which form an integral part of the framework agreement and do not have to be signed on a weekly basis. Termination of the framework agreement automatically entails termination of the appendices to that agreement.
- 3.1.4 The conditions set out below also apply as soon as the client entrusts an application to the temporary employment agency and/or the temporary employment agency proposes candidates to the client.
- 3.1.5 Any amendment to one of these conditions for temporary employment agency work provided at the time of the order must be included in writing in an appendix to the original agreement.
- 3.1.6 Deviation from or amendment to the present conditions may only be invoked against AIB NV if AIB NV has given its written consent.

3.2 Definitions and general provision(s)

- 3.2.1 AIB NV: the actual employer of the Temporary Employee, whose management and registered office are located at Wolvenstraat 23 in 8500 Kortrijk (tel.no. +32 56 20 31 75 - fax +32 56 22 92 88 - e-mail info@ago.jobs), also referred to as 'Temporary Employment Agency'.
- 3.2.2 Client: the customer who calls upon the services of AIB NV within the meaning and within the framework of the Temporary Employment Agency work Act of 24 July 1987.
- 3.2.3 Temporary Employee: the employee selected/employed by AIB NV who is bound by an employment contract for temporary employment agency work to be placed at the disposal of one or more Clients, or, as the case may be, the candidate Temporary Employee proposed by AIB NV to the Client.
- 3.2.4 For the application of these conditions and in particular Articles 3.9.1 and 3.9.2, an employment relationship is understood to mean entering into an employment relationship with the Temporary Employee:

- a. The Client enters into an employment or training agreement with the Temporary Employee;
- b. Having the Temporary Employee in question made available to the Client by a third party (including another temporary employment agency);
- c. Entering into an agreement for services with the Temporary Employee or with a third party who has recruited the Temporary Employee for this purpose;
- d. Entering into an employment relationship between the Temporary Employee and a third party, whereby the Client and such third party belong to the same group, are parent companies or subsidiaries of each other or are affiliated or associated companies, as defined in the Companies Code.

3.2.5 For the application of these Conditions and in particular Articles 3.9.1. and 3.9.2., gross annual salary of the Temporary Employee is to mean:

- a. If the Temporary Employee has already worked: the last applicable hourly rate x the average number of hours per week x 4.33 x 13.92 applicable in the Client's sector. The extras such as holiday allowance, 13th salary month, luncheon vouchers (employer's contribution x 230 working days), bonuses, commissions, the monetary value of a company car, expense allowances and all other employee benefits must be added.
- b. If the candidate Temporary Employee has not yet worked: the salary applicable to the Client for the position concerned (with as a minimum the scales of the Client's PC) x the average number of hours per week x 4,33 x 13,92 applicable in the Client's sector. To this should be added the extras such as holiday allowance, 13th salary month, bonuses, commissions, the monetary value of a company car, expense allowances and all other employee benefits.

3.2.6. For the application of these conditions and in particular Articles 3.9.1. and 3.9.2., 'operating costs' means: all costs related to the selection and recruitment process such as prospection and screening of the market, contact and interviews with potential candidates, screening and selection of candidates, creation and administrative follow-up of candidate files, contacts with the client/potential employer, etc.

3.3 Rights and obligations Client

- 3.3.1 The Client undertakes to inform AIB NV at the start and during the duration of the agreement of all necessary information and, moreover, any change, without delay and in writing, among other things and without being exhaustive with regard to the following points:
- a. The reason for the appointment of a Temporary Employee;
 - b. The presence of a trade union delegation;
 - c. In the case of an inflow of staff, the number of employment attempts and the period of employment of the attempts per workplace;
 - d. The daily and weekly performance of the Temporary Employee;
 - e. The conditions of remuneration of his own staff (competent joint committee, wage scales), including all benefits and the conditions for granting any bonuses that are customarily applied.
 - f. Any change in the remuneration of his own employees (pursuant to agreements at company or sector level)

- that may be relevant to the remuneration of the Temporary Employees made available;
- g. The professional qualification required, the activities to be carried out by the temporary employee and the specific characteristics of the workplace;
 - h. The required personal protective equipment, the results of any (special) risk assessments and medical examinations;
 - i. The non-renewal or non-extension of the agreement (e.g. the non-renewal of a 'weekly contract');
 - j. Any lateness for work or shortcoming on the part of the Temporary Employee;
 - k. Possible situations of strike or lock-out or other forms of temporary unemployment.
- 3.3.2 The variable entries will be part of the weekly attachment to the agreement, which will be made available electronically via MyAgo and will be consulted and kept up to date there by the Client. These weekly attachments do not need to be signed and form an integral part of the commercial framework agreement between the Client and AIB NV. The Client will always timely send its digital data to AIB NV.
- 3.3.3 The Client bears full responsibility for all information and data he provides with a view to the conclusion of the temporary employment agency work agreement. Furthermore, he is solely liable for all consequences resulting from the failure to pass on the aforementioned information (on time), insufficiently or incorrectly.
- The Client is responsible for all rectifications, costs and possible damage caused by the failure (timely), insufficient or incorrect transmission of the above-mentioned information and undertakes to pay any additional invoices charged for this purpose.
- 3.3.4 The schedule communicated to AIB NV by the Client can only be cancelled by the Client in so far as there is not yet an employment contract for temporary work between the Temporary Employee and AIB NV.
- 3.3.5 The Client bears the liability for the correct application of the motives and deadlines for temporary employment agency work; in the context of the motives, he shall, in the cases provided for by the law, provide the necessary permits and communications with regard to the employment of temporary employees.
- 3.3.6 The Client undertakes to only state job-related criteria in all applications and not to mention criteria that may involve discriminatory treatment.
- 3.3.7 Prior to commencement of the employment, the Client undertakes to return the job description form via AIB NV with the necessary information about the risks and nuisance associated with the work place, the precautions that must be observed, the personal protection equipment that the temporary employee is obliged to wear, as well as any health surveillance that may be required. If health surveillance is compulsory, the temporary employment agency guarantees this health surveillance and any vaccinations in accordance with the provisions of the Code on Well-being at Work. Depending on what has been agreed in the cooperation agreement with AIB NV, the cost of this will be invoiced to the Customer. The temporary employment agency shall inform the Customer of the date of this health surveillance. Up to 48 hours
- before the examination, AIB NV may cancel the health surveillance free of charge. If, after these 48 hours, the customer asks AIB NV to cancel the examination or if the temporary employee does not show up, AIB NV will invoice the cost of this examination, possibly increased by other damages suffered by AIB NV, to the Customer. This invoicing does not apply if it can be demonstrated that the temporary employee was absent on his own initiative. If the Customer does not provide a job description form, AIB NV will assume that no health surveillance is required.
- 3.3.8 The Client undertakes not to allow the Temporary Employee to start up before AIB NV has been able to verify that the identity card and work permit allow employment. The Client shall, if necessary, cooperate in order to enable AIB NV to carry out this verification. Under no circumstances and regardless of any precautions taken by AIB NV, AIB NV can be held liable for identity fraud that occurs during the employment at the Client.
- 3.3.9 The client undertakes not to submit applications for recruitment to AIB NV for an employment that falls under PC 124.
- 3.3.10 Specifically with a view to the punctual and correct registration of all legal information at DIMONA, the Client undertakes to inform AIB NV immediately and in writing, both at the start and during the duration of the agreement:
- a. All data necessary for the DIMONA employment registration;
 - b. The date and time of effective commencement of the performances of the Temporary Employee, as well as the date and time on which the performances are terminated (prematurely or not);
 - c. Any (late) presence or absence of the Temporary Employee.
- Outside office hours, the client can always call the emergency number 070 22 22 66 to register a schedule.
- The Client is responsible for any financial sanction imposed on AIB NV by the NSSO / FPS Employment, Labour and Social Dialogue as a result of failure to comply with the reporting obligations to DIMONA, and which is the result of a too late, insufficient, incorrect or non-transmission of all legal information, including the above-mentioned, by the Client. The Client undertakes to pay any additional invoices that may be charged for this purpose.
- 3.3.11 Employment of the temporary employee abroad is only possible with the prior written consent of AIB NV. In any event, this employment always takes place under the strict management and supervision of the Belgian client and only in the case of short-term assignments. The customer declares that the person concerned remains under the continuous authority of the Belgian Client during the assignment abroad. Direct and/or indirect corrections, fines and/or damages as a result of non-compliance with this provision will be invoiced in full to the Client.
- 3.3.12 The Client may not invoke the services of the temporary employment agency in the event of temporary unemployment, strike or lock-out in its company/companies. Where applicable, the Client must notify the temporary employment agency of this immediately and in writing. The compulsory

- withdrawal of the temporary employees in these cases will not give rise to the payment of compensation by the temporary employment agency to the Client.
- 3.3.13 The Client undertakes to allow the Temporary Employee to enjoy the same benefits as those granted to his permanent staff such as canteen, transport, etc. In addition, the statutory salary and compensation scales (e.g. extra-legal benefits, premiums, etc.) shall be respected. If the hourly wage or fees stated by the Client are not in conformity, this can be adjusted by AIB NV according to the scale and invoiced at the coefficient determined in the cooperation agreement. It is the responsibility of the Client to check through the invoices whether this has been correctly applied.
- 3.3.14 The Client may only use the Temporary Employees of AIB NV for the execution of its own activities and may under no circumstances place them at the disposal of third parties. Performance with a third party is only permitted subject to compliance with the legal provisions. The Client is solely liable for any irregularity in this respect and shall indemnify AIB NV against all possible claims as a result of wrongful posting or concealed temporary employment agency work, including any sanctions, which may be imposed on AIB NV by government authorities. All costs and damages suffered by AIB NV as a result of this are also at the expense of the Client.
- 3.3.15 During the term of the Temporary Employee's employment with the client, in accordance with Section 19 of the Act of 24 July 1987, the client is responsible for the application of the provisions of the Act on regulation and protection of employment that apply at the place of employment. For the application thereof, the provisions relating to the fight against discrimination, equal treatment of men and women, working hours, public holidays, Sunday rest, women's work, maternity protection, the protection of nursing mothers, the work of young persons, night work, the working regulations, the provisions relating to the monitoring of the performance of part-time employees, the health and safety of employees, as well as the salubrity of the work and of the workplaces are considered as provisions applicable at the place of work.
- The Client undertakes to check, prior to each request addressed to AIB NV, whether his/her request complies with the aforementioned provision. It follows from this that the Client must treat the Temporary Employees on an equal footing with its permanent staff, including with regard to working time, working time reduction, compensation, breaks, public holidays, Sunday work, night work, welfare of the Temporary Employee at work, etc.
- 3.3.16 In the event of payment of costs related to the employer, the Client must submit the necessary supporting documents to AIB NV. The documents prove that the reimbursements are intended to cover the costs related to the employer and that these reimbursements were actually spent on such expenses. In the absence of conclusive evidence, the Client remains responsible and, in the event of rectification, obliged to pay the additional invoices charged for this purpose.
- 3.3.17 The work interruptions for rest, meals, etc... as well as the non-worked hours normally paid by the Client to its staff
- (including bridging time and days) are considered as working hours and are invoiced as such.
- 3.3.18 Successive day contracts are permitted to the extent that there is a need for flexibility on the part of the client in accordance with the legislation and the implementing CLA's. The Client is responsible for the need for flexibility and bears the burden of proof in this respect and, where applicable, must respect the special information and consultation procedure laid down by law and/or the applicable CLA. AIB NV has no power of appreciation in this respect.
- In the event of breach of these provisions in this respect, the Client is liable for all fees and costs that AIB NV may be due as a result. The Client undertakes to proceed to the payment of the additional invoices that will be invoiced for this where appropriate.
- 3.3.19 At the written request of the Client, an employment contract can be concluded between AIB NV and a Temporary Employee with a duration exceeding one calendar week. In this case the Client shall inform AIB NV in writing at least one week in advance of the names of the Temporary Employees concerned and the respective duration of the contracts.
- All fees due as a result of incapacity for work are invoiced to the Client by AIB NV.
- The invoicing of the guaranteed salary following an accident at work is reduced by the amount recovered via the AIB NV occupational accident insurance.
- The Client is obliged to notify AIB NV immediately and at least 8 calendar days in advance if economic unemployment occurs in order to allow AIB NV to deliver the necessary documents to the National Employment Office in time.
- If the Client decides to terminate the employment of the Temporary Employee, despite the long-term temporary employment contract, AIB NV will invoice the breach of contract fee paid to the Temporary Employee to the Client.
- If the Temporary Employee decides to terminate the aforementioned contract prematurely, the Client shall not hold AIB NV liable for this. Consequently, AIB NV is not obliged to pay a fee to the Client.
- Any fees received by the Temporary Employees will be passed on to the Client, subject to deduction of costs incurred by AIB NV to obtain the breach of contract compensation.
- 3.3.20 At the request of the client, an employment contract can be drawn up between AIB NV and a temporary employee under the statute of:
- Student
 - Flexible job employee
 - Casual employee under PC 144
 - Casual employee under PC 145 (excluding PC 145.04 - parks and gardens)
 - Casual employee under PC 302
- The Client undertakes in advance to check the application and the conditions of application and not to make any applications that are not permitted under this statute.

The Client undertakes to respect at least the following guidelines:

- In each case, the schedule specifies the start and end duration of the temporary employee's employment.
- The registration of employment and any changes relating to DIMONA must be made at least 4 hours before the start of the employment.
- The Client shall see to it that the Temporary Employee complies with his employment agreement, and shall ensure that he will always be employed during the hours provided for in this agreement.

The Client shall not submit any requests to the DIMONA-line and/or the on-call service organised by AIB NV for employment under the status of flexible job employee or casual employee.

AIB NV cannot be held responsible in the event of refusal of the status in DIMONA or DMFA (Social Security), regardless of the reason for refusal.

In the event of refusal, AIB NV reserves the right to modify the initial price agreements and to re-invoice to the coefficient for employment under the statute of blue-collar and white-collar employees. If no rates for a blue-collar employee are included in the cooperation agreement, a rate for a blue-collar employee of 2.18 and for a white-collar employee of 2.33 shall apply.

The rates indicated as applicable for the casual employees in PC 144 and PC 145 only apply to the invoicing of hours worked as an casual employee. Other equivalent hours are charged at the rates of an ordinary employee. These rates are based on full-time employment as an casual employee. As the cost price increases in case of incomplete performances (NSSO on a fixed amount), AIB NV reserves the right to revise the coefficient in this case.

- 3.3.21 In case of an accident at work of a Temporary Employee, the Client, after having taken the urgent measures, will immediately inform AIB NV and provide all necessary information for drawing up the accident statement; In case of delay or failure to communicate the circumstances of the accident, the Client will be held directly responsible for sanctions by inspection services or the failure of insurance institutions to intervene. If the accident at work/road work accident is refused by the occupational accident insurer of AIB NV, AIB NV does not intervene in the medical costs.
- 3.3.22 In the event of any serious accident, the Client shall instruct its internal or external Prevention and Protection at the Work Place department to investigate the accident - at its own expense - and to implement the obligations of the Welfare legislation and the Temporary Employment Agency Work Act. The accident report, signed by the Client and, if necessary, supplemented by AIB NV, will be sent by the Client, within 10 days following the accident, to FPS - Welfare Supervision and a copy to AIB NV. The report meets the minimum requirements imposed by the applicable legislation. The Client keeps AIB NV informed of the further processing of the report by the FPS.
- 3.3.23 The civil liability provided for in Section 1384 paragraph 3 of the Belgian Civil Code rests with the Client. The Client is therefore only responsible for any damage caused by the Temporary Employee to third parties. It is recommended that the Client also include in its civil liability insurance a cover for the damage caused by the Temporary Employee as the Client's staff.

AIB NV is not liable for the payment of the fines imposed on the Temporary Employee in case of violation of the traffic regulations: it is the Client who, in addition to the Temporary Employee, is liable for the payment of fines.

Nor is AIB NV liable for the damage caused by the Temporary Employee to the Client during and as a result of his employment with the Client. The liability of AIB NV is also not involved in case of damage, loss, theft or disappearance of material, money or goods entrusted to the Temporary Employee.

With regard to the selection, the liability of AIB NV can never be invoked if the Client itself carries out the selection of the candidate temporary employees.

3.3.24 The Client is solely liable for the return of the signed client contract and (the supervision of) the return of the completed and signed time sheets. Failing this, the client shall not be able to invoke the non-signature to the detriment of AIB NV and AIB NV shall invoice the actual performances performed by the Temporary Employee, with as a minimum the contractually agreed performances, to the client.

3.3.25 The signature of the Client on the periodic time sheets implies the acknowledgement of the accuracy of the information contained therein and of the satisfactory performance of the work by the Temporary Employee. The Client shall not dispute the validity of the signatures of its employees or mandataries on the time sheets. In the event of automatic payroll administration, the Client shall at all times agree to the performance data as transmitted by automated or electronic means. Only the Client is liable in the event of errors in the automated transmission.

3.3.26 AIB NV is not responsible for loans or advances in kind or cash, possibly granted by the Client to the Temporary Employee. The recovery of expenses resulting from the use of the telephone for private purposes, meals used in the company restaurant, permitted purchases, etc... will be made without the mediation of AIB NV. Under no circumstances can the responsibility of AIB NV be invoked in case of loss, theft or disappearance of equipment, cash, bills of exchange or goods entrusted to the Temporary Employee by the Client or his employees.

3.4 Suitability of the Temporary Employee

3.4.1 Although AIB NV takes the greatest care in the selection of the Temporary Employees, shortcomings can occur. If the Client notices a shortfall in the qualifications of the Temporary Employee, he must notify these to AIB NV within the first four performance hours.

3.4.2 AIB NV cannot be held responsible for the consequences of the absence of the Temporary Employee at work.

3.5 Obligations to the Temporary Employee

3.5.1 In accordance with Section 10 of the Act of 24 July 1987, temporary employees are entitled to the same gross pay, including indexations and conventional increases, bonuses, meal vouchers and other wage components as if they had been hired on a permanent basis by the Client. On the basis of

- Article 2.3.1 of these conditions, the Client must communicate these wage details to AIB NV.
- 3.5.2 The Client must also allow the Temporary Employee to benefit from all advantages granted to the permanent staff, as well as that the same legal salary scales must be respected. The Client shall also grant the Temporary Employees the same work interruptions for rest, meals, etc., as it owes the Temporary Employees the non-worked hours paid to the permanent staff (e.g. bridging days).
- 3.5.3 Subject to the express prior written agreement of AIB NV:
- The Temporary Employee may only perform normal work, to the exclusion of all work protected by special regulations, such as unhealthy, dangerous or underground work or work at height;
 - The client is forbidden to entrust the temporary employee with an assignment that is different from that for which he was made available; in particular, he may not allow the temporary employee to manipulate equipment, vehicles or goods, nor transport or handle valuables, whatever these may be or have them transported or handled for cash collection, unless this is provided for in the agreement.
- 3.6 Protection of personal data
- 3.6.1 If personal data is communicated to the Customer in the context of the Contract, this can only be done on the basis of the authorisations set out in the Act of 8 December 1992 on the protection of privacy with regard to the processing of personal data and, from 25 May 2018, Regulation 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Directive 95/46/EC.
- Both AIB NV and the customer are regarded as separate controllers within the meaning of the aforementioned regulations.
- The Customer declares to comply with his obligations as controller.
- 3.6.2 The Customer undertakes to delete the personal data of candidates proposed by AIB NV within one month of the presentation by AIB NV of the person concerned.
- 3.6.3 The Customer is aware that the protection of personal data is of particular importance to AIB NV and that breaches of his obligations as controller may cause significant damage to AIB NV, in particular damage to its image and reputation. Without prejudice to the possibility for AIB NV to claim higher compensation for the actual damage caused by the breach of the obligations set out in this Article, in the event of a breach, the Customer will be liable to pay fixed compensation of € 12,500.00 and such a breach will always constitute a breach of contract justifying the immediate termination of the Contract.
- 3.7 Invoicing and payment
- 3.7.1 Invoicing: Invoicing is based on:
- The performance

The performance as stated on the performance statements or as communicated (electronically) by the client with as a minimum the number of hours requested by the client.

In the absence of performance sheets completed and signed by the client, invoicing will take place on the basis of the performance actually performed by the temporary employee, with a minimum of the number of hours requested by the client; in this context, all free hours and days granted and remunerated by the client to its permanent employees, such as extra-legal holidays, holidays, bridging days, etc., to which the temporary employee is also entitled, will also be regarded as performance and invoiced as such to the client.
 - The agreed coefficient and/or the agreed rate

This coefficient and/or this rate may be increased unilaterally by AIB NV in the event of an increase in the direct or indirect employer's charges as well as all possible other factors that determine the actual wage cost and/or operating cost of AIB NV. Wage increases as a result of wage indexations and conventional wage increases applicable at the client's premises shall be invoiced at the agreed rate.
 - The rates for temporary employment agency work are based on a number of actual working hours or working days; the aforementioned number is stated in the cooperation agreement between AIB NV and the client. In the case of part-time employment, the minimum number of working hours or working days must be converted proportionally using the formula $[\text{actual working hours or working days}] / Q * S$, where Q equals the weekly working time of the individual temporary employee and S equals the weekly working time of the full-time employee. It is possible to employ the temporary employee at an earlier date on a permanent basis, subject to payment of a lump-sum payment, as set out in the Article on recruitment and selection prices.
- The rates, as well as what may or may not be included in these rates, to which the performance of the Temporary Employees is invoiced are set out in the Contract of Cooperation between the Client and AIB NV. Anything not mentioned in the Contract is deemed to be exclusive and will be invoiced additionally to the Client. Unless agreed otherwise in writing, the following items shall be invoiced to the Client as follows:
- Gross pay (including pension contributions, any premiums or reimbursements at sector or company level): Invoicing at wage coefficient
 - Guaranteed pay in the event of suspension of the employment contract (sickness, minor delays, public holidays, accidents at work, etc.): Invoicing to wage coefficient
 - All costs (non-exhaustive: work clothing, medical examinations, training courses, etc.) incurred by AIB NV

- in the context of the placement of the temporary employee at the client: Cost price
 - Reimbursement of transport costs: Coefficient of 1.4
 - The employer's contribution of meal vouchers and/or eco vouchers to which the temporary employee is entitled as a result of his placement at the client: Coefficient of 1.69
 - DIMONA cost (indexable)
 - Taking statutory employee leave, testing, time registration, work clothes and work shoes, purchase of badges, 24-hour standby, administrative costs for work-related accidents of 193 EUR, medical costs health assessments (whatever their nature): Cost price
 - The recruitment and selection prices for permanent employment are expressed as a percentage of the gross annual salary, referred to as a fee. This fee is due upon signature of an employment agreement between the Client and the selected candidate. The gross annual salary is defined as the annual salary, including all extras that the candidate nominated by AIB NV will earn upon commencement of employment. Extras also include: holiday allowance, 13th month payment, bonuses and commissions, the monetary value of a company car (fixed at 15% of the catalogue value), expense allowances and all other employee benefits. Also in case of a part-time position and/or employment contract shorter than one year, the annual salary will be based on a full working week and a full year. The gross annual salary must be increased by the VAT due on it. The selection amount can be reduced at the request of the Client if a temporary employment through AIB NV has already taken place. Per hour or day of effective full-time employment, the amount is reduced by 1/[effective working hours or working days]. In the case of part-time employment, a proportional conversion will be made according to the formula set out in the previous paragraph.
 - The other wage components as provided for in Article 2.3.1 of these conditions
 - The other price agreements in writing
- All this increased with the applicable VAT
- For special services (such as overtime, work in shifts, at night, on Sundays and public holidays, etc.) the Temporary Employee shall be compensated in accordance with the law and/or CLA applicable at the Client. The wage supplement thus paid will be invoiced to the Client at the same coefficient as that applied to the Temporary Employee's basic wage or as that used to calculate the rate.
- 3.7.2 Before the start and at the latest on the first day of the temporary employee's employment, the Client shall provide AIB NV with all necessary information to enable AIB NV to draw up a correct invoice, including but not limited to the correct PO number. Failure to provide a correct PO number does not release the Client from his obligation to pay the full invoiced amount within the contractually stipulated term of payment.

- 3.7.3 In accordance with Section 20 of the Royal Decree no. 1 relating to the arrangements for the payment of value added tax, the customer does not owe this tax to AIB NV if a Temporary Employee carries out work in immovable property (or an equivalent transaction). AIB NV shall only apply this arrangement co-contractor if the client dates, signs and transfers to AIB NV a document drawn up for this purpose by AIB NV. The client is responsible for the correct application of this Article. In this context, the client undertakes to provide AIB NV with the correct information and to inform AIB NV in good time of any changes. In the event of incorrect application of the system of co-contractor, all costs (including but not limited to: regularisations, fines, default interest, ...) are at the expense of the client.
- 3.7.4 De The standard payment term concerns a cash payment by direct debit. It is possible that a special payment term has been agreed in the cooperation agreement between AIB NV and the client, this is subject to permanent approval by the credit insurer.

If the special payment term is exceeded, the special payment conditions shall lapse and the standard payment condition shall be applied, this without prejudice to the provisions of Article 1.5 of the general conditions and subject to permanent approval by the credit insurer.

3.8 Termination

- 3.8.1 The Client who unilaterally and prematurely terminates the agreement for temporary employment agency work (including 'week-contracts' and extensions) is liable, in application of Sections 1226 ff. of the Belgian Civil Code, to pay a fixed compensation which corresponds to the price that AIB NV would invoice for the agreed performances in case of execution of the agreement; this fixed compensation will amount to at least € 50.00 per calendar day.

This fixed compensation is also due in case the possible nullity of the agreement for temporary employment agency work is the result of a breach by the Client of the Temporary Employment Agency Work Act or a shortcoming in the above mentioned information obligations. AIB NV reserves the right to claim a higher compensation; if necessary it will prove the damage actually suffered. The Client undertakes to pay the additional invoices charged for this purpose.

- 3.8.2 In case AIB NV has to provide an employment guarantee pursuant to the law or an applicable CLA, the minimum duration of the agreement with the Temporary Employee is equal to the duration of the employment guarantee. In case of early termination at the request of the Client without urgent reason, the Client is liable for all fees and costs that AIB NV would be due as a result.

The Client undertakes to pay the additional invoices that will be invoiced for this as the case may be.

3.9 Solicitation

3.9.1 In case of solicitation by the Client within a period of 12 months after the presentation of the candidate, if the Client thus directly or indirectly (e.g. via an affiliated company; via a third party (e.g. via a third party). through a third party (e.g. another temporary employment agency) or through an agreement for services (directly with the candidate or through a third party who has hired the candidate), without the intervention of AIB NV, enters into an employment relationship with the Temporary Employee for the same or another position, before the Temporary Employee has performed 988 hours or 130 days through AIB NV, the Client shall pay to AIB NV, by way of fixed compensation, an operating cost equal to 35% of the gross annual salary of the Temporary Employee concerned.

This amount is based on the mutual agreement between the Client and AIB NV that the damages suffered by AIB NV include the costs of prospecting, selection and screening as well as the administrative follow-up and settlement and the loss of profit, and that these damages can be estimated on a flat-rate basis at the above-mentioned amount, subject however to the right of AIB NV to claim a higher compensation if proof of the extent of the damages is provided

Unless expressly agreed otherwise, days worked as a student are not included in the period that the temporary employee has to work for the user (988 hours or 130 days, unless otherwise stipulated in the cooperation agreement).

The compensation for solicitation, as stipulated above, is also payable by the user if the user hires a temporary employee who was employed by him via AIB NV with an employment contract for students (both student and working student), either directly or indirectly within 12 months of the end date of the last employment contract between the student and AIB NV.

The Client shall also owe this compensation if the Temporary Employee enters into an employment relationship within a period of 12 months after the last employment contract was terminated via AIB NV, provided that the Temporary Employee has not yet been made available 988 hours or 130 days via AIB NV and has performed between the first day of placement and the first day of the employment relationship with the Temporary Employee

3.9.2 In case of solicitation of a Temporary Employee employed by AIB NV by another temporary employment agency (for employment with the same Client) within 30 days following the last day of employment through AIB NV, the Client will owe AIB NV a recruitment fee equal to € 3.000,00 per Temporary Employee.

If the Temporary Employee has not yet performed 988 hours or 130 days via AIB NV, the recruitment compensation will furthermore be cumulated with the operational cost estimated at 35% of the gross annual salary of the Temporary Employee concerned, whereby AIB furthermore reserves the right to claim a higher compensation subject to proof of the extent of the damage.
